MAKE FRIENDS WITH IMPOSTER SYNDROME

Did you know that Imposter Syndrome is normal? According to Entrepreneur and FastCompany, every single entrepreneur has struggled with Imposter Syndrome at least once in their career. Yet, even when it seems to have been defeated, it is likely to come back.

Why? I.S. is part of your fight/freeze/fight system. And when we get scared to uplevel, be seen in a new room, or accomplish something huge, I.S. typically rears its head. In this talk, Veronica addresses how I.S. works, how to identify your unique I.S. triggers, and how you can use I.S. to benefit your business and personal growth forever.

Just reaching out to send you mid-night spring greetings from Athens and a very warm thank you for your amazing professionalism, enthusiasm and inspiration. After the [Delphi Economic Forum] session this afternoon, all of us keep on receiving thank you messages for your insights and the points raised during our session. It was a great discussion. Delphi Forum also called to congratulate us! — Vivian Fatourou, Lean In Hellas
